Intentional physical contact of a sexual nature with the body of another should not occur without the unequivocal consent of that individual. In the event of any indication that the contact or conduct is unwelcome, it should cease or not be attempted. "No" means "no"; "maybe" means "no"; silence means "no"; hesitation means "no"; and a "yes" that is followed by a change of mind also means "no". If there is any doubt, the answer should be understood to be no, and sexual activity should cease. This policy applies regardless of the sexual orientation of the individuals involved.

Purpose and Scope of Policy

1. Statement of Institutional Values

Sexual misconduct of any form is a violation of a person's rights, dignity and integrity. An act of sexual misconduct represents a fundamental failure by a community member to recognize and respect the intrinsic worth and dignity of another. Acts of sexual misconduct are harmful and illegal and will not be tolerated at Colby-Sawyer College. Such acts corrupt the integrity of the educational process, are contrary to the mission and values of the Colby-Sawyer College community and are against College policy.

All members of the Colby-Sawyer College community should be free from sexual misconduct in the classroom; the social, recreational and residential environment; and the workplace. The College seeks to foster a climate free from sexual misconduct through a coordinated education and prevention program, the promulgation of clear and effective policies, as well as investigative and grievance procedures that are prompt, equitable, and accessible to all. In response to any reported sexual misconduct, the College will take all appropriate steps to eliminate the misconduct, prevent its recurrence and address its effects.

In order to foster a climate of respect for oneself and for one another and provide for the safety and security of our community, the College expects all community members to take action to prevent acts of sexual misconduct. Creating a safe campus environment is the responsibility of all members of the College community, both individually and collectively.

In order to foster a climate that encourages reporting of sexual misconduct, the College will actively educate the community, respond to all allegations promptly, will provide interim measures to address safety and emotional well-being, and will act in a manner that recognizes the inherent dignity of the individuals involved.

In order to achieve equitable results, the College will carefully review and/or investigate all reports with an earnest intent to understand the perspective and experiences of each individual involved, and provide for fair and impartial evaluation and resolution.

2. Purpose of Policy

The purpose of this policy is to provide the Colby-Sawyer College community with a clearly articulated set of behavioral standards, common understandings of definitions and key concepts, and descriptions of prohibited conduct. The policy applies to all community members, including students, faculty, and staff regardless of gender identity or sexual orientation. It is intended to protect and guide students, faculty and staff who have been affected by sexual misconduct, whether as a complainant, a respondent, or a third party.

When used in this policy, a complainant refers to the individual who believes him, herself, their selves to have been the subject of sexual misconduct. A respondent refers to the individual who has been accused of sexual misconduct. A third party refers to any other participant in the process, including a witness to the incident or an individual who makes a report on behalf of someone else. A report refers to any incident or concern regarding sexual misconduct that is reported to the College. A complaint is an allegation of sexual misconduct filed against a faculty or staff member or student that initiates the appropriate disciplinary process.

In addition to defining sexual harassment and the forms of sexual misconduct that violate the standards of our community, this policy will also:

- Identify resources and support for all members of the College community;
- Identify the Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Coordinators, and their roles;
- Provide information about where a College community member can obtain support or access resources in a confidential manner;
- Provide information about how a College community member can make a report on-campus or offcampus; and,
- Provide information about how a report against a College community member will be investigated, evaluated and resolved.

3. Scope

As stated above, this policy applies to all members of the Colby-Sawyer College community, including students, employees, visitors, and independent contractors regardless of gender identity or sexual orientation. When used in this policy, employee generally refers to both staff and faculty members, although there are separate complaint processes delineated for non-faculty employees and for faculty members. Vendors, independent contractors, visitors, and others who conduct business with the College or on College property are also expected to comply with this policy.

All College community members are responsible for their actions and behavior, whether the conduct in question occurs on campus or in another location. Members of the Colby-Sawyer College community have a responsibility to adhere to College policies and local, state and federal law.

As a result, this policy applies both to on-campus and off-campus conduct as well as online behavior and social media. In particular, off-campus or online behaviors that have an actual or potential adverse impact on any member of the College community or the College fall under this policy.

Any individual may make a report alleging a violation of this policy. The College will provide resource options and respond promptly and equitably to all allegations of sexual misconduct. The College will engage in a Title IX review throughout which it is committed to maintaining fairness for all parties and to balancing the needs and interests of the individuals involved with the safety of the community as a whole. If information comes forward of allegations of sexual misconduct, the College itself may initiate a complaint.

4. Coordination with Non-Discrimination Policy

The College recognizes that harassment related to an individual's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression can occur in conjunction with misconduct related to an individual's race, color, ethnicity, national origin, religion, age, or disability. Targeting individuals on the basis of these characteristics is also a violation of the Code of Community Responsibility. Under these circumstances, the College will coordinate the investigation and resolution efforts (see Procedures for Addressing Complaints) to address harassment related to the targeted individual's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression together with the conduct related to the targeted individual's race, color, ethnicity, national origin, religion, age, or disability.

Prohibited Conduct and Definitions

The College prohibits sexual misconduct. Sexual misconduct is a broad term that includes but is not limited to sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual exploitation, stalking, and cyber-stalking.

Consistent with the values of an educational and employment environment free from harassment based on sex, the College also prohibits gender-based harassment, which may include acts of verbal, nonverbal, or physical aggression, intimidation, or hostility based on sex or sex-stereotyping, even if those acts do not involve conduct of a sexual nature.

1. Definition of Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is any unwelcome sexual advance, request for sexual favors, or other unwelcome verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- 1. Submission to or rejection of such conduct is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of an individual's employment, evaluation of academic work or participation in social or extracurricular activities;
- 2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for decisions affecting the individual; or
- 3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance by creating an intimidating, hostile, humiliating, demeaning, or sexually offensive working, academic or social environment. The effect will be evaluated based on the perspective of a reasonable person in the position of a complainant.

A single or isolated incident of sexual harassment may create a hostile environment if the incident is sufficiently severe. The more severe the conduct, the less need there is to show a repetitive series of incidents to provide a hostile environment, particularly if the harassment is physical.

2. Forms of Prohibited Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is prohibited. In some cases, sexual harassment is obvious and may involve an overt action, a threat or reprisal. In other instances, sexual harassment is subtle and indirect, with a coercive aspect that is unstated.

Sexual harassment can take many forms:

It can occur between equals (e.g., student to student, staff to staff, faculty member to faculty member, visitor/contracted employee to staff) or between persons of unequal power status (e.g. supervisor to subordinate, faculty member to student, coach to student-athlete, student leader to first-year student). Although sexual harassment often occurs in the context of an exploitation of power by the

- individual with the greater power, a person who appears to have less power in a relationship can also commit sexual harassment (e.g., student harassing faculty member).
- It can be committed by an individual or may be a result of the collective actions of an organization or group.
- It can be committed against an individual, an organization or a group.
- It can be committed by an acquaintance, a stranger, or someone with whom the complainant has a personal, intimate or sexual relationship.
- It can occur by or against an individual of any sex, gender identity, gender expression or sexual orientation.
- It does NOT have to include intent to harm, be directed at a specific target, or involve repeated incidents.

Examples of behavior that might be considered sexual harassment include, but are not limited to:

- Unwanted or inappropriate sexual innuendo, propositions, sexual attention or suggestive comments and gestures; humor and jokes about sex or gender-specific traits; sexual slurs or derogatory language directed at another person's sexuality or gender; insults and threats based on sex or gender; and other oral, written or electronic communications of a sexual nature that an individual communicates is unwanted and unwelcome;
- Written graffiti or the display or distribution of sexually explicit drawings, pictures, or written materials; sexually charged name-calling; sexual rumors or ratings of sexual activity/performance; the circulation, display, or creation of e-mails or Web sites of a sexual nature.
- Non-academic display or circulation of written materials or pictures degrading to an individual(s) or gender group (It is expected that instructors will offer appropriate warning regarding the introduction of explicit and triggering materials used in the classroom.);
- Inappropriate or unwelcome physical contact or suggestive body language, such as touching, patting, pinching, hugging, kissing, or brushing against an individual's body;
- Undue and unwanted attention, such as repeated inappropriate flirting, inappropriate or repetitive compliments about clothing or physical attributes, staring, making sexually oriented gestures, or giving gifts of a sexual nature, or looking up a skirt or shorts or down a blouse or top;
- Physical coercion or pressure of an individual to engage in sexual activity or punishment for a refusal to respond or comply with sexual advances;
- Change of academic or employment responsibilities (increase in difficulty or decrease of responsibility) based on sex, gender identity/expression, or sexual orientation;
- Use of a position of power or authority to: (1) threaten or punish, either directly or by implication, for refusing to tolerate harassment, for refusing to submit to sexual activity, or for reporting harassment; or (2) promise rewards in return for sexual favors;
- Sexual assault;
- Abusive, disruptive or harassing behavior, verbal or physical, which endangers another's mental or physical health, including but not limited to threats, acts of violence, or assault based on gender and/or in the context of intimate partner violence;
- Demeaning verbal or other expressive behavior of a sexual or gendered nature in instructional settings;
 and
- Acts of verbal, nonverbal, or physical aggression, intimidation, or hostility based on sex or sexstereotyping. Harassment for exhibiting what is perceived as a stereotypical characteristic for one's sex, or for failing to conform to stereotypical notions of masculinity and femininity, regardless of actual or perceived sexual orientation or gender identity of the harasser or target.

Because of the potential for abuse of power, harassment, bias, and favoritism, the College considers that a conflict exists when any employee of the college engages in a relationship with a student that goes beyond friendship to the romantic, physical, or sexual. Employees of the College may not engage in an intimate or sexual relationship with a Colby-Sawyer College student.

3. Additional Forms of Prohibited Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct may vary in its severity and consists of a range of behaviors. The following descriptions represent sexual behaviors that violate Colby-Sawyer College's community standards and a person's rights, dignity and integrity.

- Sexual Assault: Physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent. This includes rape, sexual assault, battery and sexual coercion. Sexual violence may involve individuals who are known to one another or have an intimate and/or sexual relationship, or may involve individuals not known to one another. Examples include, but are not limited to:
 - Having or attempting to have sexual intercourse with another individual without consent. Sexual intercourse includes vaginal or anal penetration, however slight, with a body part or object, or oral copulation by mouth-to-genital contact.
 - Having or attempting to have sexual contact with another individual without consent. Sexual contact includes kissing, touching the intimate parts of another, causing the other to touch one's intimate parts, or disrobing of another without permission. Intimate parts may include the breasts, genitals, buttocks, mouth or any other part of the body that is touched in a sexual manner.

New Hampshire RSA 632-A establishes three categories of sexual assault and related offenses.

- 1. Aggravated Felonious Sexual Assault (a Class A felony punishable by up to 15 years in prison, includes engaging in "sexual penetration" of another, in pertinent part, under any of the following circumstances:
 - through application of physical force, violence or superior physical strength;
 - when the victim is physically helpless to resist;
 - when the victim is less than 13;
 - when at the time of the assault the victim indicates by speech or conduct that consent is not freely given to performance of the sexual act;
 - when there is a pattern of sexual assault with a victim under the age of 16;
 - When the actor coerces the victim to submit by threatened use of physical violence or physical strength, and the victim believes that the actor has the ability to execute these threats;
 - when the actor coerces the victim to submit by threatening to retaliate and the victim believes that the actor has the ability to execute these threats;
 - when the victim submits under circumstances involving false imprisonment, kidnapping or extortion;
 - when the actor, without the prior knowledge or consent of the victim, administers or has knowledge of another person administering to the victim any intoxicating substance which mentally incapacitates the victim; and
 - when the actor provides therapy, medical treatment or examination of the victim in the course of a therapeutic relationship under certain circumstances. See NH RSA 632-A:2.

- 1. Aggravated Felonious Sexual Assault (a Class A felony punishable by up to 15 years in prison) includes intentional touching through clothing, or otherwise, the genitalia of a person under the age of 13 under circumstances that can being reasonably construed as being for the purpose of sexual arousal or gratification.
- 2. Felonious Sexual Assault (a Class B felony punishable by up to 7 years imprisonment), includes, in part, "sexual contact," (intentional touching, reasonably construed as being for purposes of sexual arousal or gratification) when the accused:
 - causes serious personal injury to the victim;
 - engages in sexual penetration with a person who is between the ages of 13 and 16, where the age difference four years or more;
 - engages in sexual contact with a person under the age of 13; and
 - engages in sexual contact with a person when the actor is in a position of authority over the person and uses that authority to coerce the victim. See NH RSA 632-A:3.
- 3. Sexual Assault (a Class A misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $2000 and up to one year imprisonment), includes, in part, "sexual contact" (intentional touching, reasonably construed as being for the purposes of sexual arousal or gratification) with a person 13 years of age or older under the circumstances described regarding aggravated felonious sexual assault, and/or engages in sexual penetration with a person between the ages of 13 and 16 where the age difference between the actor and the other person is three years or less. Se NH RSA 623-A:4.
- Sexual Exploitation: An act or acts committed through non-consensual abuse or exploitation of another person's sexuality for the purpose of one's own or another's sexual gratification, financial gain, personal benefit or advantage or any other non-legitimate purpose. The act or acts of sexual exploitation are prohibited even though the behavior does not constitute one of the other sexual misconduct offenses. Sexual exploitation may involve individuals who are known to one another, have an intimate or sexual relationship, and/or may involve individuals not known to one another. Examples include, but are not limited to:
 - Observing another individual's nudity or sexual activity or allowing another to observe consensual sexual activity without the knowledge and consent of all parties involved;
 - Non-consensual streaming of images, photography, video or audio recording of sexual activity or nudity, or distribution of such without the knowledge and consent of all parties involved;
 - Prostituting another individual or aiding in or facilitating the sexual assault of another;
 - Knowingly exposing another individual to a sexually transmitted disease or virus without his or her knowledge; and
 - Inducing incapacitation for the purpose of making another person vulnerable to non-consensual sexual activity.
- Stalking: A course of conduct directed at a specific person involving more than one instance of unwanted attention, harassment, physical or verbal contact, or any other course of conduct directed at an individual that could be reasonably regarded as likely to alarm or place that individual in fear of harm or injury, including physical, emotional, or psychological harm. This includes cyber-stalking, a particular form of stalking in which electronic media such as the internet, social networks, blogs, cell phones, texts or other similar devices or forms of contact are used to pursue, harass or make unwelcome contact with another person. Stalking and cyber-stalking may involve individuals who are known to one another or have an intimate or sexual relationship, or may involve individuals not known to one another.

New Hampshire RSA 633:3 states a person commits the offense of stalking if such person: (1) purposely, knowingly, or recklessly engages in a course of conduct targeted at a specific person which would cause a reasonable person to fear for his or her personal safety or the safety of a member of that person's immediate family, and the person is actually placed in such fear; (2) engages in a course of conduct targeted at a specific individual, which the actor knows will place that individual in fear for his or her personal safety or the safety of a member of that individual's immediate family; (3) or after being served with, or otherwise provided notice of, a protective order that prohibits contact with a specific individual, engages in a single act of conduct that both violates the provision of the order.

"Course of conduct" means two or more acts over a period of time, however short, which evidences a continuity of purpose. Such conduct includes: (1) Threatening the safety of the targeted person or an immediate family member; (2) Following, approaching, or confronting that person, or a member of that person's immediate family; (3) Appearing in close proximity to, or entering the person's residence, place of employment, school, or other place where the person can be found, or the residence, place of employment or school of a member of the person's immediate family; (5) Placing an object on the person's property, either directly or through a third person, or that of an immediate family member; (6) Causing injury to that person's pet, or to a pet belonging to a member of that person's immediate family; (7) Any act of communication, as defined in RSA 644:4, II.

"Immediate family" means father, mother, stepparent, child, stepchild, sibling, spouse, or grandparent of the targeted person, any person residing in the household of the targeted person, or any person involved in an intimate relationship with the targeted person.

• Dating/Domestic Violence: A pattern of coercive behavior used by one person to gain and maintain power and control over another in the context of an intimate or familial relationship.

Dating Violence means physical or sexual violence; stalking; or verbal, emotional, mental/psychological, and economic abuse committed by a person:

- who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim; and
- where the existence of such a relationship will be determined based on a consideration of the following factors:
- the length of the relationship;
- the type of the relationship;
- the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

Domestic Violence may involve threats, pushing, punching slapping, strangulation, sexual assault, shouting, name-calling, harming or threatening to harm children or pets, and other violent or intimidating behaviors by a person with whom the victim is or has cohabitated.

According to New Hampshire State Law, Domestic Violence includes felony or misdemeanor crimes of violence committed against a family or household member or intimate partner. Here is a link to New Hampshire's Domestic Violence Law, RSA 631:2-b.

New Hampshire RSA 173-B:1 defines Domestic Violence as a commission or attempted commission of one or more of the acts described in subparagraphs (a) through (g) by a family or household member or by a current or former sexual or intimate partner, where such conduct is determined to constitute a credible present threat to the petitioner's safety. The court may consider evidence of such acts, regardless of their proximity in time to the filing of the petition, which, in combination with recent conduct, reflects an ongoing pattern of behavior, which reasonably causes or has caused the petitioner to fear for his or her safety or well-being:

- a. Assault or reckless conduct as defined in RSA 631:1 through RSA 631:3
- b. Criminal threatening as defined in RSA 631:4
- c. Sexual assault as defined in RSA 632-A:2 through RSA 632-A:5
- d. Interference with freedom as defined in RSA 633:1 through RSA 633:3-a
- e. Destruction of property as defined in RSA 634:1 and RSA 634:2
- f. Unauthorized entry as defined in RSA 635:1 and RSA 635:2
- g. Harassment as defined in RSA 644:4
- Retaliation: Acts or attempts to retaliate or seek retribution against the complainant, respondent, or any individual or group of individuals involved in the investigation and/or resolution of an allegation of sexual misconduct. Retaliation can be committed by any individual or group of individuals, not just a respondent or complainant. Retaliation may include continued abuse or violence, other forms of harassment, and slander and libel.

4. Statement on Consent, Coercion, Incapacitation,

At Colby-Sawyer College, a person who is accused of sexual misconduct or sexual assault must show he or she had evidence of unequivocal consent given by the person who complains of inappropriate sexual conduct or contact. The hearing body may find for the complainant instead of the respondent unless there is evidence of unequivocal consent by one who is capable of offering it. If someone is incapable of offering [or recognizing] consent, due to alcohol or drug consumption, underage status, or other limitation, then sexual activity should cease. Likewise if someone is incapable of recognizing whether consent has or has not been given, then sexual activity should cease.

Consent to engage in sexual activity must be knowing and voluntary. Consent to engage in sexual activity must exist from the beginning to end of each instance of sexual activity, and for each form of sexual contact. Consent to one form of sexual contact does not constitute consent to all forms of sexual contact. For example, an individual may agree to kiss but choose not to engage in touching of the intimate parts or sexual intercourse. An individual should obtain consent before moving from one act to another.

Consent consists of an outward demonstration indicating that an individual has freely chosen to engage in sexual activity. Consent is demonstrated through mutually understandable words and/or actions that clearly indicate a willingness to engage freely in sexual activity. Relying on non-verbal communication can lead to misunderstandings. Consent may not be inferred from silence, passivity, lack of resistance or lack of active response alone. A person who does not physically resist or verbally refuse sexual activity is not necessarily giving consent. In the absence of an outward demonstration, consent does not exist. If at any time it is reasonably apparent that either party is hesitant, confused or uncertain, both parties should stop and obtain mutual verbal consent before continuing sexual activity.

A current or previous dating or sexual relationship, by itself, is not sufficient to constitute consent. Even in the context of a relationship, there must be mutually understandable communication that clearly indicates willingness to engage in sexual activity each time such activity occurs.

Consent may be withdrawn by either party at any time. Withdrawal of consent must also be outwardly demonstrated by words or actions that clearly indicate a desire to end sexual activity. Once withdrawal of consent has been expressed, sexual activity must cease.

In the state of New Hampshire, consent can never be given by minors under the age of 16.

Consent is not effective if it results from the use or threat of physical force, intimidation, or coercion, or any other factor that would eliminate an individual's ability to exercise his or her own free will to choose whether or not to have sexual contact. Coercion includes the use of pressure and/or oppressive behavior, including express or implied threats of harm, intimidation, which places an individual in fear of immediate or future harm or physical injury or causes a person to engage in unwelcome sexual activity. A person's words or conduct amount to coercion if they wrongfully impair the other's freedom of will and ability to choose whether or not to engage in sexual activity.

An individual who is incapacitated is not able to make rational, reasonable judgments and therefore is incapable of giving consent. Incapacitation is the inability, temporarily or permanently, to give consent, because the individual is mentally and/or physically helpless due to drug or alcohol consumption, either voluntarily or involuntarily, or the individual is unconscious or semi-conscious, asleep or otherwise unaware that the sexual activity is occurring. In addition, an individual is incapacitated if he/she/they demonstrate that they are unaware of where they are, how they got there, or why or how they became engaged in a sexual interaction. Where alcohol is involved, incapacitation is a state beyond drunkenness or intoxication. Some indicators of incapacitation may include, but are not limited to, lack of control over physical movements (stumbling), lack of awareness of circumstances or surroundings (unconscious or semi-conscious), or the inability to communicate for any reason (slurring). An individual may experience a blackout state in which he/she/they appear to be giving consent, but do not actually have conscious awareness or the ability to consent. It is especially important, therefore, that anyone engaging in sexual activity be aware of the other person's level of intoxication. The relevant standard that will be applied is whether the respondent knew, or a sober reasonable person in the same position should have known, that the other party was incapacitated and therefore could not consent to the sexual activity.

The College considers sexual contact while under the influence of alcohol to be risky behavior. Alcohol impairs a person's decision-making capacity, awareness of the consequences, and ability to make informed judgments. Being intoxicated or impaired by drugs or alcohol is never an excuse for sexual misconduct and does not excuse one from the responsibility to obtain consent.

Notice of Non-Discrimination

Colby-Sawyer College is committed to being an inclusive and diverse campus community, which celebrates multiple perspectives. Under institutional policy, as well as under state and federal law (including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and the Age Discrimination Act), Colby-Sawyer College does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices or its admission practices on the basis of gender, race or ethnicity, color, national origin, religion, age, mental or physical disability, family or marital status, sexual orientation, veteran status, genetic information, or gender identity.

In addition, Colby-Sawyer College seeks to provide an environment free from all forms of sex discrimination, and expects all college community members, visitors, vendors and other third parties to uphold this effort. Sexual harassment, sexual assault and sexual violence are forms of sex discrimination.

Colby-Sawyer College has designated multiple individuals to coordinate its nondiscrimination compliance efforts. Questions, complaints, or concerns about issues of discrimination or harassment, including complaints of sex discrimination in violation of Title IX and age discrimination in violation of the Age Discrimination Act, may be directed as follows:

- For Students: Robin Burroughs Davis, Interim Vice President of Student Development and Dean of Students, Room 104 Ware Campus Center. Phone: 603.526.3755. Lead Title IX Coordinator
- For Staff employees: Douglas Atkins, Vice President for Human Resources and Assistant Treasurer. Room 105B Colgate Hall. Phone: 603.526.3880. Deputy Title IX Coordinator
- For Faculty: Laura Alexander, Interim Academic Vice President and Dean of Faculty. Room 131 Colgate Hall. Phone: 603.526.3760. Deputy Title IX Coordinator

In addition, complaints of discrimination on the basis of sex may be directed to: Assistant Secretary, United States Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue SW, Washington, D.C. 20202.

Colby-Sawyer College has adopted grievance procedures to respond to complaints of discrimination or harassment, as follows:

- For Complaints about Students: Code of Community Responsibility: Conduct System.
- For Complaints about Employees: Employee Handbook, Discriminatory & Sexual Harassment Policy.

Faculty at Colby-Sawyer College are bound by the Employee Handbook in addition to this Faculty Handbook. The Employee Handbook can be found on myColby-Sawyer at mycolby-Sawyer.edu/myhr.

Resources

1. Overview

The College is committed to treating all individuals with dignity, care and respect. Any individual affected by sexual misconduct, whether as a complainant, a respondent, or a third party, will have equal access to support and counseling services through the College. The College recognizes that any individual involved in an incident of sexual misconduct may have questions and we encourage Colby-Sawyer community members to seek the support of campus and community resources. The College can provide guidance in making decisions, obtaining information about available resources, and assisting either party in the event that a report and/or resolution is pursued. Individuals are encouraged to use all available resources, regardless of whether the incident occurred recently or in the past.

Complainants, respondents and third parties can expect:

- The opportunity to meet with the Title IX Coordinator to answer questions regarding the College's complaint processes for students and employees.
- Notice of confidential resources, including health care and mental health counseling services, on campus and in the local community.
- Notice of the option to pursue law enforcement action and to be assisted by Colby-Sawyer College Campus Safety or other College officials in accessing and communicating with such authorities. This notice will include a discussion of the importance of the preservation of evidence.
- The opportunity to request that the College take steps to prevent unnecessary or unwelcome contact or communication with another member of the Colby-Sawyer community.
- The right to be free from retaliation. Any concerns of retaliatory behavior should be immediately reported to Campus Safety or the Title IX or Deputy Title IX Coordinator.

2. Confidential Resources and Support

The College encourages all Colby-Sawyer community members to report an incident of sexual misconduct. The College recognizes, however, that there are many barriers to reporting, both individual and societal, and not every individual will choose to make a formal report with the College or with local law enforcement. For those individuals who are not prepared to make a report, there are several confidential resources available for students, staff and faculty. Individuals seeking to talk to someone about an incident of sexual misconduct in a confidential manner without making a report to the College or triggering any investigation or action by the College may utilize the following confidential mental health resources. These resources hold a statutorily protected confidentiality that prohibits the release of an individual's information without that individual's express consent (except under limited circumstances that pose an imminent danger to the individual or to others.) The following resources are confidential:

On-Campus:

Baird Health and Counseling Center

(603) 526-3621

Counselors are available during regular office hours. Counselors are also available on call after hours and can be reached through the Campus Safety Emergency Line.

For Employees:

Crisis Center of Central New Hampshire

(603)225-7376

The CCNH provides confidential crisis counseling 24 hours a day relating to rape or sexual assault via its 24-Hour Crisis Line: (800) 227-5570

3. Campus Resources

In addition to the confidential resources listed above, all Colby-Sawyer community members have access to a variety of resources provided by the College that can provide crisis intervention services, counseling, academic support, and medical services. All of the staff and faculty listed below are trained to support individuals affected by sexual misconduct and to coordinate with the Title IX Coordinator consistent with the College's commitment to a safe and healthy educational environment. While not bound by confidentiality, these resources will nevertheless maintain the privacy of an individual's information within the limited circle of those involved in the Title IX resolution process.

Resident Assistants

RAs are students living in the residence halls who are employed by Residential Education and trained to refer students to campus resources.

4. Community Resources

Students, faculty and staff may also access resources located in the local community. These organizations can provide crisis intervention services, counseling, medical attention and assistance in interfacing with the criminal justice system. All individuals are encouraged to utilize the resources that are the best suited to their needs, whether on or off campus. In general, off-campus resources can provide assistance to individuals wishing to make a report to the College, but will not notify the College without the consent of the complainant. In addition to the resources listed above, a list of resources in the local community is provided in the Resources section.

College Statement on Privacy

The College is committed to maintaining the privacy of all individuals involved in a report of sexual misconduct. In any Title IX review of an allegation of sexual misconduct, every effort will be made to protect the privacy and interests of the individuals involved in a manner consistent with the need for a thorough review of the allegation. Such a review is essential to protecting the safety of the complainant, the respondent, and the broader campus community and to maintaining an environment free from sexual discrimination.

At all times, the privacy of the parties will be respected and safeguarded. Information related to a report of misconduct will be shared only with those College employees who "need to know" in order to assist in the investigation and/or resolution of the complaint. All College employees who are involved in the Title IX review process, including hearing panel members, have received specific training regarding the safeguarding of private information. Students or employees wishing to obtain confidential assistance through on-campus or off-campus resources without making a report to the College may do so by speaking with professionals who are obligated by law to maintain confidentiality. These professionals are identified in the Resources section of this policy. As a reminder, students may seek confidential assistance on campus through the Baird Health and Counseling Center. Employees may seek confidential assistance through the Employee Assistance Plan. Community resources include the Crisis Center of Central New Hampshire and the Sexual Assault 24-Hour Hotline.

When the College has received a report of sexual misconduct, but the complainant requests that his/her identity remain confidential or that the College not pursue an investigation, the College will balance this request with its responsibility to provide a safe and non-discriminatory environment for all College community members. The College will take all reasonable steps to investigate and respond to the complaint consistent with the request for confidentiality or request not to pursue an investigation, (see "Request for Confidentiality" in Title IX Review section) At all times, the College will seek to respect the request of the complainant, and where it cannot do so, the College will consult with the complainant and keep him/her/them informed about the chosen course of action.

If a report of misconduct discloses an immediate threat to the College campus community, the College may issue a timely notice of the conduct to the community to protect the health or safety of the broader campus community. This notice will not contain any biographical or other identifying information. Immediately threatening circumstances include, but are not limited to, recently reported incidents of sexual misconduct that include the use of force, a weapon, or other circumstances that represent a serious and ongoing threat to College students, faculty, administrators, staff, or visitors. All resolution proceedings are conducted in compliance with the requirements of FERPA, the Clery Act, Title IX, and College policy. No information shall be released from such proceedings except as required or permitted by law or College policy.

All College employees, including faculty, staff, and administrators, student employees who have a responsibility for student welfare, and student volunteers who have a responsibility for student welfare, are required to share with the Title IX Coordinator any report of sexual misconduct they receive or of which they become aware.

Examples of students who have a duty to share the information with the Title IX Coordinator include Resident Assistants.

All Colby-Sawyer community members, even those who are not obligated by this policy, are strongly encouraged to report information regarding any incident of sexual misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator or Title IX Deputy Coordinators.

The Title IX Deputy Coordinators, working with the Title IX Coordinator, will ensure that the College responds to all reports in a timely, effective and consistent manner. The Title IX Deputy Coordinators are: the Vice President for Human Resources and Assistant Treasurer and the Interim Academic Vice President and Dean of Faculty.

The College will promptly and thoroughly investigate and respond to all reports of sexual misconduct. The College will respond to all reports in an integrated, consistent manner that treats each individual with dignity and respect. The College will approach each report with an earnest intent to understand the perspective and experiences of each individual involved in order to ensure fair and impartial evaluation and resolution.

The College is committed to providing a variety of welcoming and accessible means so that that all instances of sexual misconduct will be reported. The College also recognizes that the decision whether or not to report sexual misconduct is personal, and that there are many barriers to reporting, both individual and societal. Not every individual will be prepared to make a report to the College or to law enforcement, and individuals are not expected or required to pursue a specific course of action.

An incident does not have to occur on campus to be reported to the College. Off-campus conduct that adversely affects the College or the Colby-Sawyer community also falls under this policy.

An individual does not have to decide whether or not to request disciplinary action at the time the report is made. The College recognizes that choosing to make a report, and deciding how to proceed after making the report, can be a process that unfolds over time. The College will respect an individual's autonomy in making these important decisions and provide support that will assist each individual in making that determination.

As outlined in the Resources section of this policy, there are confidential resources on campus and in the community available to individuals not wishing to make a make a report to the College. Information shared with these confidential resources will not be reported to the College.

As outlined in the Statement on Privacy, the College respects the privacy interests of student, faculty, and staff. All information reported will be shared only with those College employees who will assist in the investigation and/or resolution of the complaint.

1. Emergency/Immediate Reporting Options

The College encourages all individuals to seek assistance from a medical provider and/or law enforcement immediately after an incident of sexual misconduct. This is the best option to ensure preservation of evidence and to begin a timely investigative and remedial response. The College will assist any Colby-Sawyer community member to get to a safe place and will provide transportation to the hospital, coordination with law enforcement, and information about the College's resources and complaint processes.

Assistance is available from the College 24 hours a day year-round by calling Colby-Sawyer College Campus Safety. Any individual can request that a member of Campus Safety respond and take a report, or request to speak with a member of the Counseling Center. There is no requirement that an individual file an incident report with Campus Safety in order to speak with a member of the Counseling Center.

A medical provider can provide emergency and/or follow-up medical services, and the ability to discuss any health care concerns related to the incident in a confidential medical setting may bring peace of mind. The medical exam has two goals: first, to diagnose and treat the full extent of any injury or physical effect (sexually transmitted infection or pregnancy) and second, to properly collect and preserve evidence. There is a limited window of time (typically 72 to 96 hours) following an incident of sexual assault to preserve physical and other forms of evidence. Taking the step to gather evidence immediately does not commit an individual to any course of action. The decision to seek medical attention and gather any evidence will remain confidential and preserve the full range of options to seek resolution through the College's complaint processes or through the pursuit of criminal action.

2. Campus Reporting Options

The College recognizes that a student or employee may choose to report sexual misconduct to any trusted employee of the College. For example, a student may choose to confide in a Resident Assistant, a faculty member, or a coach, all of whom are considered "responsible employees" who must report the incident under this policy. An employee may choose to confide in a supervisor, also considered a "responsible employee." Under this policy, any employee who receives a report of sexual misconduct must share the report with the Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator is specifically charged with investigating and responding to allegations of sexual misconduct.

To enable the College to respond to all reports in a prompt and equitable manner, the College encourages all individuals to directly report any incident of sexual misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator or a Title IX Deputy Coordinator:

3. Anonymous Reporting

Any individual may make an anonymous report concerning an act of sexual misconduct. An individual may report the incident without disclosing his/her name, identifying the respondent or requesting any action. Depending on the level of information available about the incident or the individuals involved, however, the College's ability to respond to an anonymous report may be limited. Anonymous reports may be made by downloading the "Confidential Sexual Assault Report Form," printing out the form and completing and returning it to the Director of Campus Safety. All reports will go to the Title IX Coordinator.

4. Reporting Patterns of Sexual Harassment

In the event that an individual believes that he/she/they may be experiencing behavior that points to a pattern of sexual harassment, he/she/they should document that behavior and report it to the Title IX Coordinator or a Deputy Coordinator.

5. Time Frame for Reporting

Individuals are encouraged to report sexual misconduct immediately in order to maximize the College's ability to respond promptly and equitably. The College does not, however, limit the time frame for reporting. The College will not be able to pursue disciplinary action against an individual who is no longer affiliated with the College. Under those circumstances, the College will still conduct a Title IX review.

6. Coordination with Law Enforcement

The College encourages complainants to pursue criminal action for incidents of sexual misconduct that may also be crimes under New Hampshire law. In every case of sexual violence, the College, through the Director of Campus Safety, will notify the New London Police Department of the allegations. The College will also assist a complainant in making a criminal report and will cooperate with law enforcement agencies if a complainant decides to pursue the criminal process to the extent permitted by law. However, a complainant may also choose not to pursue criminal action, and under most circumstances, the New London Police Department will not force a complainant to pursue charges if he/she/they are not willing to do so.

The filing and processing of a complaint of sexual misconduct with the college is independent of any criminal investigation or proceeding. The college will not wait for the conclusion of any criminal investigation or proceedings to begin its own investigation and proceedings outlined herein. Neither law enforcement's determination whether or not to prosecute a respondent, nor the outcome of any criminal prosecution, will dictate whether or not sexual misconduct under the college policy occurred. Proceedings under the College's Sexual Misconduct Policy may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off-campus.

7. Amnesty for Students Who Report Sexual Misconduct

The College encourages reporting and seeks to remove any barriers to reporting by making the procedures for reporting transparent and straightforward. The College recognizes that an individual who has been drinking or using drugs at the time of the incident may be hesitant to make a report because of potential Conduct System consequences for his/her/their own conduct. An individual who reports sexual misconduct, either as a complainant or a third party witness, will not be subject to disciplinary action by the College for his/her/their own personal consumption of alcohol or drugs at or near the time of the incident, provided that any such violations did not and do not place the health or safety of any other person at risk. The College may, however, initiate an educational discussion or pursue other educational remedies regarding alcohol or other drugs. The amnesty policy applies to the College's student conduct process.

8. Bystander Intervention

The college expects all community members to take reasonable and prudent actions to prevent or stop an act of sexual misconduct. Taking action may include direct intervention, calling law enforcement, or seeking assistance from a person in authority. Community members who choose to exercise this positive moral obligation will be supported by the College and protected from retaliation.

9. Statement Against Retaliation

It is a violation of College policy to retaliate in any way against an individual or a group because the individual or group of individuals reported an allegation of sexual misconduct.

The College recognizes that retaliation can take many forms, may be committed by an individual or a group against an individual or a group, and that a respondent can also be the subject of retaliation by the complainant or a third party. The College will take immediate and responsive action to any report of retaliation and may pursue disciplinary action as appropriate. An individual reporting sexual misconduct is entitled to protection from any form of retaliation following a report that is made in good faith, even if the report is later not proven.

Title IX Review

1. Role of the Title IX Coordinator

Interim Vice President of Student Development and Dean of Students Robin Burroughs Davis serves as the Title IX Coordinator. In her role as Title IX Coordinator, Mrs. Davis oversees the College's centralized review, investigation and resolution process for reports of sexual misconduct. She also coordinates the College's compliance with Title IX. Mrs. Davis is supported by several College administrators who serve as Deputy Title IX Coordinators. Each is knowledgeable and trained in state and federal laws that apply to matters of sexual harassment, as well as College policy and procedure.

The Title IX and Deputy Title IX Coordinators can be contacted by telephone, e-mail, or in person during regular office hours:

The duties and responsibilities of the Title IX and Deputy Title IX Coordinators include training, education and climate checks as well as the oversight of procedures that promptly and equitably eliminate sexual harassment, prevent its recurrence and address its effects on individuals and our community. The Title IX Coordinator will:

- Oversee the investigation and resolution of all reports of sexual misconduct;
- Consult with appropriate offices to offer appropriate interim measures for a complainant or respondent as well as procedural options on and off campus;
- Ensure prompt and equitable resolutions that comply with all requirements and time frames specified in the complaint procedures;
- Conduct on-going and annual climate checks, tracking, and monitoring of sexual misconduct allegations on campus; and,
- Coordinate all training, education and prevention efforts.

2. Role of the Title IX Deputies

While a report may emerge through many sources, the College is committed to ensuring that all reports are brought to the College's Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator assisted by her designated deputies, ensures consistent application of the policy to all individuals and allows the College to respond promptly and equitably to eliminate the misconduct, prevent its recurrence and address its effects. The Title IX Coordinator coordinates the review, investigation and resolution of the report and ensures that all appropriate interim measures are implemented.

College policy requires that any employee who receives a report of sexual misconduct bring the report to the Title IX Coordinator or a Deputy Title IX Coordinator.

The Title IX Coordinator oversees the resolution of reported misconduct through the College's complaint processes. The process will be determined by the role of the respondent:

- Complaints against students will be resolved by the student Conduct System.
- Complaints against employees will be resolved according to Employee Handbook.
- Complaints against faculty will be resolved according to the Faculty Handbook and Employee Handbook.

Each process is guided by the same principles of fairness and respect for all parties. Resources are available for both students and employees, whether as complainants or respondents, to provide guidance throughout the investigation and resolution of the complaint.

3. Initial Assessment

The College will address all reports of sexual misconduct. The Title IX Coordinator will oversee the College's Title IX review process.

In every report of sexual misconduct, the College, through the Title IX Coordinator will make an initial assessment of any risk of harm to individuals or to the campus community and will take steps necessary to address those risks. These steps will include interim measures to provide for the safety of the individual and the campus community.

The College's responsibility to review and respond to all allegations of misconduct exists regardless of whether that review culminates in additional investigation or, ultimately, goes before Sexual Misconduct Hearing Board, and exists independently of the criminal justice process.

4. Investigation

The Title IX Coordinator will determine if an investigation of the report of sexual misconduct should be conducted. This determination is based on a variety of factors, such as the complainant's wish to pursue disciplinary action, the risk posed to any individual or the campus community by not proceeding, and the nature of the allegation. The Title IX Coordinator may designate an investigator of her choosing. Any investigator used by the College must have specific training and experience investigating allegations of sexual misconduct.

The Investigator will coordinate the gathering of information from the complainant, the respondent, and any other individuals who may have information relevant to the determination. The Investigator will also gather any available physical or medical evidence, including documents, communications between the parties, and other electronic records as appropriate. In gathering such information, the investigator will comply with applicable laws and Colby-Sawyer College policies. The investigation will be thorough, impartial and fair, and all individuals will be treated with appropriate sensitivity and respect.

As described in the Privacy section, all College investigations will respect individual privacy concerns.

Information gathered during the investigation will be used to evaluate the responsibility of the respondent, provide for the safety of the individual and the College campus community, and impose remedies as necessary to address the effects of the alleged conduct. Any investigative report will serve as the foundation for all related resolution processes.

5. Request for Confidentiality

Where the College has received a report of sexual misconduct, but the complainant requests that his/her identity remain confidential or that the College not pursue an investigation, the College must balance this request in the context of its responsibility to provide a safe and non-discriminatory environment for all College community members. The College will take all reasonable steps to investigate and respond to the complaint consistent with the request for confidentiality or request not to pursue an investigation, but its ability to investigate may be limited by the request for confidentiality. Under these circumstances, the College will weigh the request for confidentiality against the following factors: the seriousness of the alleged harassment, any potential threats to community safety, the respective ages and positions of the complainant and the respondent, whether there have been other harassment complaints against the respondent, and the respondent's right to receive information under applicable law.

At all times, the College will seek to respect the request of the complainant, and where it cannot do so, the College will consult with the complainant and keep him/her/them informed about the chosen course of action.

6. Time Frame for Resolution

The investigation and resolution (excluding appeal) of all reports will generally be completed within 60 days. Extenuating circumstances beyond the College's control may arise that require the complaint process to extend beyond 60 days. Should that be the case, the parties will be notified as appropriate. In general, a complainant and respondent can expect to receive periodic updates as to the status of the review or investigation.

Interim Measures

Upon receipt of a report, the College will provide interim support and reasonable protective measures to prevent further acts of misconduct, and to provide a safe educational and work environment. The College will determine the necessity and scope of any interim measures. Even when a complainant or respondent does not specifically request that protective action be taken, the College may choose to impose interim measures at its discretion to ensure the safety of any individual, the broader College community or the integrity of the review process. Interim measures will be imposed in a way that minimizes the burden on the complainant to the extent possible while balancing the rights of the accused.

Students seeking a non-contact order should contact Campus Safety, who will coordinate such requests on the behalf of the student. Information will be maintained as private as long as it does not hinder the College's ability to provide interim measures. The College will maintain contact with the parties to ensure that all safety and emotional and physical well-being concerns are being addressed.

All individuals are encouraged to report concerns about failure of another individual to abide by any restrictions imposed by an interim measure. The College will take immediate and responsive action to enforce measures previously ordered or implemented by the College.

The College may impose any remedy that can be tailored to the involved parties to achieve the goals of this policy, even if not specifically listed here. The range of interim measures may include:

No Contact Order: A complainant or respondent may request, or the College may impose, communication and contact restrictions to prevent further potentially harmful interaction. These communication and contact restrictions generally preclude in person, telephone, electronic or third party communications. In some cases, an individual may also wish to consider a Temporary Restraining Order from the local courts. This is a civil proceeding independent of the College. If a court order is issued the College will, to the extent possible, assist the protected person in benefiting from the restrictions imposed by the court and will also facilitate on campus compliance with the order. The College may also limit an individual or organization's access to certain College facilities or activities as part of the no contact order.

Academic, Employment or Residence Modifications: A complainant or respondent may request an academic or employment accommodation or a change in residence after a report of sexual misconduct, dating or domestic violence. An individual who requests assistance in changing their academic or living situation after an incident of sexual misconduct, dating or domestic violence will receive appropriate and reasonably available accommodations. These may include:

- Academic accommodations, including a change in class schedule, taking an incomplete, dropping a course without penalty, attending a class via Skype or other alternative means, providing an academic tutor, or extending deadlines for assignments;
- Change of residence hall assignment;
- Change in work assignment or schedule;
- Providing an escort to ensure safe movement between classes and activities.

Emotional Support: The College will provide counseling services through the Baird Health and Counseling Center or will assist in providing a referral to off campus agencies as detailed in the Campus and Community Resources section of this policy. Counseling and emotional support is available to any member of the campus community.

Interim Suspension: Where the report of misconduct poses an ongoing risk of harm to the safety or well-being of an individual or members of the campus community, the College may place an individual or organization on interim suspension or impose leave for an employee. Pending resolution of the complaint, the individual or organization may be denied access to campus. When interim suspension or leave is imposed, the College will make reasonable efforts to complete the investigation and resolution within an expedited time frame.

I. Introduction

The college has established a Sexual Misconduct Policy that articulates the college's behavioral standards, definitions and key terms. The policy also outlines the college's procedures for addressing reports of sexual misconduct. Below are the procedures for resolving a sexual misconduct complaint against a student through the Colby-Sawyer College Student Conduct System (Conduct System).

II. Preliminary Matters

a. Timing of Complaints:

So long as the respondent is a student at the college as defined in the Conduct System (See "Jurisdiction" section of the Conduct System), there is no time limit on filing a complaint to engage the student conduct process. However, students are strongly encouraged to report sexual misconduct in a timely manner to maximize the college's ability to obtain evidence and to conduct a thorough, impartial and reliable investigation. Where the respondent is a second semester senior, the college may withhold that student's Colby-Sawyer College degree pending conclusion of the student conduct proceedings.

b. Jurisdiction:

See "Jurisdiction" section of the Code.

c. Effect of Criminal Proceedings:

The filing and processing of a complaint of sexual misconduct with the college is independent of any criminal investigation or proceeding. The college will not wait for the conclusion of any criminal investigation or proceedings to begin its own investigation and proceedings outlined herein. Neither law enforcement's determination whether or not to prosecute a respondent, nor the outcome of any criminal prosecution, will dictate whether or not sexual misconduct under the college policy occurred.

d. Effect of Pending Complaint on Respondent:

If the respondent is a current student, no notation will be placed on the respondent's transcript of a complaint or pending disciplinary action during the conduct proceedings. If the respondent withdraws from the college while a sexual misconduct complaint is pending, the respondent's transcript will reflect a withdrawal and a notation of pending disciplinary action will be placed in the student's conduct file and academic transcript.

e. Amnesty:

An individual who files a sexual misconduct complaint or serves as a third party witness during the conduct proceedings will not be subject to disciplinary action by the college for his or her own personal consumption of alcohol or drugs at or near the time of the alleged sexual misconduct, provided that such violations did not and do not place the health or safety of any other person at risk. The college may initiate educational discussion or pursue other educational remedies regarding alcohol or other drugs.

f. Investigation/Hearing Support Person:

Complainant and respondent both have the right to be assisted by a support person of their choosing during the student conduct process; the support person must be available at the time of the scheduled hearing. An investigation/hearing support person serves as a support person to the student through the pre-hearing, investigative, and resolution process and may accompany the student to any meeting with a college employee and to the hearing. The investigation/hearing support person is not an advocate for the student and may not direct questions to or otherwise address the investigator or Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board (Hearing Board) but may consult with the student that he or she is assisting. Disruptive behavior by the investigation/hearing support person will result in removal from the hearing or the investigative process.

The complainant will be encouraged to choose an investigation/hearing support person at the time the complaint is filed and the respondent will be encouraged to choose an investigation/hearing support person at the time he/she/they are notified of the complaint.

If the complainant or respondent wants to disclose any of their educational records to their support person, the complainant or respondent would need to sign a written authorization and have their advisor sign as well prior to any disclosures of their records.

Note: Colby-Sawyer College's attorney may be present to provide legal counsel to the investigator, the Title IX coordinator and to the Hearing Board members to include the Hearing Advisor or Administrator.

g. Agreements Not Recognized by the College:

Other than a court order, the college will not recognize agreements between the complainant and respondent in which the college did not participate.

h. Time Frames:

The college will complete the process, excluding appeals, within 60 days. However, there may be circumstances beyond the college's control (i.e. summer months and/or break periods) that may alter or extend time frames. Should that be the case, parties will be notified as appropriate.

i. Communications:

All communications and notices concerning an allegation of sexual misconduct that are made to the complainant, respondent or a third party may be made electronically, in hard copy, or in person.

III. Initiating a Complaint

a. Type:

1. Individual

Any person, who has experienced an incident of sexual misconduct, as defined in the Sexual Misconduct Policy, may file a complaint against a Colby-Sawyer College student, faculty or staff alleged to be responsible for that conduct. "Person" may include any member of Colby-Sawyer College, including students, faculty, administrators, and staff members, or visitors. A person wishing to file a complaint must contact the Title IX coordinator, a deputy Title IX coordinator, or in the case of afterhours and emergency situations, Campus Safety. (For the purposes of this policy, references to the Title IX coordinator will mean the Title IX coordinator or a deputy coordinator.)

As set forth in the Sexual Misconduct Policy, reports of sexual misconduct undergo a Title IX review (See Title IX Review section) to determine the appropriate response.

2. Administrative

In exceptional cases, such as cases threatening community safety, the college may initiate a complaint through the associate dean of students and director of citizenship education against a student of the college.

IV. Filing Requirements

The person bringing the allegation is called the complainant. The complainant will submit a complaint to the Title IX coordinator or in the case of afterhours and emergency situations, Campus Safety. The statement of complaint should contain sufficient information to permit the respondent to understand the charges being brought and to be able to adequately respond. The statement may not reflect every detail related to the allegations in the complaint as additional information may be discovered during the investigation. The professional staff member receiving the complaint will notify the Title IX coordinator of all complaints filed.

V. Title IX Review

The Title IX coordinator will review the statement of complaint to determine if the college should conduct an investigation of the report of sexual misconduct. The Title IX coordinator's determination is based on a variety of factors, such as the complainant's desire to pursue disciplinary action, the risk posed to any individual or the campus community by not proceeding, and the nature of the allegation. The Title IX coordinator may designate an investigator of its choosing. Any investigator used by the college must have specific training and experience investigating allegations of sexual misconduct.

VI. Interim Measures

Upon the filing of a complaint, the Title IX coordinator will review the allegations as well as any possible interim measures that may be appropriate to help prevent further acts of harassment, misconduct, or retaliation and to provide a safe educational and work environment. Retaliation includes but is not limited to intimidation, verbal or physical threats, harassment, coercion, or other adverse action. When evidence of retaliatory behavior exists, appropriate disciplinary action will be taken. The range of interim measures may include, but not be limited to:

- 1. No Contact Order
- 2. Academic, Employment or Residence Modifications
- 3. Emotional Support
- 4. Interim Suspension for a specified time
- 5. Interim Suspension pending a hearing

VII. Information for Complainant

After receipt of the complaint, the Title IX coordinator will notify the complainant of the option to have a investigation/hearing support person (see "Investigation/Hearing Support Person" section). The Title IX coordinator will also provide complainant information regarding the rights and responsibilities of the complainant and respondent, explain the prohibition against retaliation, explain the resolution process including investigation, investigators report, and Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board process, instruct the complainant not to destroy any potentially relevant documentation in any format, and give the complainant a copy of the relevant policies. Once the investigation into the matter is complete, the Title IX coordinator will provide the respondent and the complainant the materials collected as part of the investigation for a final review.

VIII. Withdrawal of Complaint

Prior to the conclusion of the investigation, the complainant may withdraw the sexual misconduct complaint by contacting the Title IX coordinator. Withdrawal of the complaint will, in most circumstances, end the conduct process. The college reserves the right to move forward with the complaint, even after the complainant withdraws it, in order to protect the interests and safety of the college community.

IX. Information for the Respondent

The respondent will be notified by the Title IX coordinator that a complaint alleging sexual misconduct has been filed against him/her/them. Once the investigation into the matter is complete, the Title IX coordinator will proved the respondent and the complainant the materials collected as part of the investigation for a final review.

Within 5 days of receiving notice of the complaint, the Title IX coordinator will contact the respondent. The Title IX coordinator will discuss the nature of the complaint, provide the option to select an investigation/hearing support person, explain the rights and responsibilities of the complainant and respondent, explain the prohibition against retaliation, explain the resolution process including investigation, summary report, and Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board process, instruct the respondent not to destroy any potentially relevant documentation in any format, and give the respondent a copy of the relevant policies. If respondent fails to meet and cooperate with the Title IX coordinator, investigator, hearing advisor or attend the hearing the adjudication of the complaint will proceed without input from the respondent.

Acceptance of Responsibility:

At any point in the investigatory process or the Title IX review process, the respondent may accept responsibility for the conduct alleged in the complaint. In such cases, the process will immediately move to the Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board for a decision regarding sanctioning.

X. Investigation Phase

a. Investigator:

The Title IX coordinator will designate an investigator of his/her choosing to conduct a thorough, impartial and fair investigation. The investigator chosen will have specific training and experience investigating allegations of sexual misconduct. The investigator may, with the approval of the Title IX coordinator, request assistance from another trained investigator.

b. Investigation Process:

The investigator will coordinate the gathering of information from the complainant, respondent, and other individuals or entities with relevant information regarding the complaint using any of the following processes.

1. Document/Records Review

In addition to reviewing any documents submitted by the complainant and respondent, the investigator will try to obtain such other physical or medical evidence relevant to the investigation as the investigator determines, in his or her judgment, to be necessary, including but not limited to documents, police records, electronic or other record of communications between the parties or witnesses, records or other relevant information. In obtaining such evidence, the Investigator will comply with applicable state and federal laws and Colby-Sawyer College policies.

2. Site Visits

The investigator may visit relevant sites or locations and record observations through written or photographic documentation.

3. Complainant and Respondent Interviews

The investigator will interview the complainant and the respondent separately and may interview one or both more than once as necessary. The complainant and respondent may be accompanied by their respective investigation/hearing support persons.

4. Witness Interviews

The investigator will make a good faith effort to contact and interview any witnesses identified by the parties or in the documentation, including those no longer at the college. The investigator may also interview any other individual he or she finds to be potentially relevant to the allegations of the complaint. The investigator will inform each witness or other individual interviewed that they are prohibited from retaliating against the complainant and respondent or other witnesses.

Colby-Sawyer College prohibits any retaliatory acts, or attempts to retaliate, against anyone who has reported in good faith any act of sexual misconduct, who has participated (or is expected to participate) in any manner in an investigation or hearing pursuant to this policy, or who otherwise supports the investigative report or other forms of documentation or evidence of the case.

5. Experts

The investigator may contact any expert the investigator determines is necessary to ascertain the facts related to the complaint. An expert witness may be contacted for an informal consult or for a professional opinion regarding information learned from the investigation.

If the complainant does not participate in the investigation after the complaint is filed, the college may still move forward. The college reserves the right to move forward with the complaint, even after the complainant withdraws it, in order to protect the interests and safety of the college community.

Investigator's Report:

1. Contents

The investigator will prepare an investigator's report summarizing and analyzing the relevant facts determined through the investigation, referencing any supporting documentation or statements. The investigator's report may include summaries of interviews with the complainant, respondent, third-party witnesses, experts, and any other individuals with relevant information, photographs of relevant sites or physical evidence, electronic records and forensic evidence. The investigator will forward the completed report to the Title IX coordinator.

- 2. Distribution to Parties Once the Title IX coordinator has reviewed the report, he or she will provide a copy of the report to the complainant and the respondent.
- 3. Response Once the report is distributed to the parties, each party will have three days to respond in writing to the investigator with any additional information or additional witnesses. The investigator will notify the Title IX coordinator of the additional information.
- 4. Closure Once the response period is over, the investigation will be considered closed and no new information will be gathered.

XI. Title IX Review Continued

The Title IX coordinator, in consultation with a deputy coordinator or other appropriate college official(s), will conduct an administrative review of the investigator's report. The purpose of the administrative review is to determine whether the investigation is prompt, fair, impartial and thorough. If the Title IX coordinator determines the investigation is deficient, the Title IX coordinator shall send the matter back to the investigator for further investigation. In the event of bias on the part of the Investigator, the Title IX coordinator will appoint a new investigator

If the Title IX coordinator determines that the investigation is prompt, fair, impartial and thorough, the Title IX coordinator will then consider whether the information contained in the report substantiates an allegation of (charge of) a violation of Colby-Sawyer College's Sexual Misconduct Policy.

Note: A finding that there is enough information to substantiate a charge of violation of college policy does not automatically mean the student is responsible for the alleged violation; merely that there is enough information to proceed with a formal hearing process.

XII. Resolution

a. Voluntary Resolution:

A complainant and a respondent may choose to resolve a complaint through voluntary resolution. Voluntary resolution may include mediation. However, voluntary resolution may only be used:

- 1. Prior to the commencement of a hearing;
- 2. When the complainant and respondent agree to use the process with approval from the Title IX coordinator or deputy coordinator.
- 3. When the complaint does not involve sexual assault, stalking, dating, and domestic violence.

Because the outcomes of voluntary resolution conversations are mutually developed and agreed upon by parties involved, an appeal of the process and its result is not permitted. If the parties are unable to agree on a voluntary resolution, the matter will be referred by the Title IX coordinator or deputy coordinator to be investigated and, if the investigation finds that enough information is present to substantiate a charge of violation, a Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board.

b. Sexual Misconduct Hearing Process:

The Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board will review the information and make a determination of responsibility or no responsibility based on a preponderance of the evidence standard. Should the Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board determine the respondent is responsible for the alleged violation, it will then determine an appropriate sanction.

1. Composition of Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board:

The Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board shall consist of no less than three members, and it shall be drawn from a pool of faculty and staff who are annually trained in the area of sexual harassment, sexual violence, and dating and domestic violence. Please refer to "The General Student Conduct Hearing Board Information" that is outlined in the Code (Part III.B. 1-5, and Part III. C. 2. C) for more information about the Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Process.

Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board: Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing board is comprised of three professional faculty/staff members of the College community. A professional faculty/staff member will serve as a chair for the hearing. All board members are provided with an initial training period (approximately six (6) hours) to include an observation of a hearing, followed by meetings/hearings as needed hear cases, make findings, and assign appropriate sanctions. Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing board members are also provided training specific to Title IX. Typically, Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Boards will be referred cases of alleged Sexual Misconduct conduct violations that could result in sanctioning from warning, housing contract revocation/visitation revocation, suspension or dismissal for findings of responsibility.

Board Advisor: Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Boards will also have a hearing board advisor. The hearing board advisor refers to a college official designated by the vice president of student development and dean of students to advise hearing board members, complainants, and respondents on procedural issues related to the hearing process and policies as outlined in the Code and sexual misconduct policy and procedures.

2. Factors to be Considered When Determining a Sanction

In determining an appropriate sanction, the Sexual Misconduct Administrative Hearing Board will take into account the following considerations: the seriousness of the violation; sanctions typically imposed for similar violations; prior disciplinary history; and any other circumstances indicating that the sanction should be more or less severe.

Sanctions may include but are not limited to one or more of the following: dismissal; suspension; housing contract revocation; housing contract probation; housing restriction or relocation; educational/counseling requirement; no-contact order; and/or restriction from specific college programs or activities.

3. Appeal Process

The appeals process for Sexual Misconduct cases is the same process for general conduct cases and is explained fully in the "Appeals" section of the Code.

4. Records Maintained

If a student has been found responsible for violating the Sexual Misconduct Policy, such records shall be used in reviewing any further conduct issues, or developing sanctions, and shall remain a part of a student's conduct record.

Records of suspension and dismissal as well as withdrawal pending disciplinary action are permanently maintained in the Office of Citizenship Education and noted on the academic transcript. Records of conduct action resulting in probation or revocation of housing are maintained for seven years.
