Name _______________________________________________________

Title of submission ____________________________________________

Phone/voice mail _______________ E-mail _________________________

Guidelines

1. The contest is open to all Colby-Sawyer College students.
3. All submissions must relate to the environment and must be the original work of the student.
4. Students (or their designees) will read their poem(s) (limit of three) on Thursday, April 22, at 7 p.m. at Lethbridge Lodge.
5. A faculty, staff and student member panel will judge the poems. Poets will be judged on: their ability to captivate the audience through the use of sensory imaging, presentation skills, the use of language, and the mechanics of writing.
6. Students are encouraged to reserve their place by submitting the attached entry form to Janet St. Laurent through campus mail and a copy of their poem(s) as Word attachments to jstlaure@colby-sawyer.edu by April 21. (If time allows at the end of the evening on April 22, those students who have not submitted their poem(s) may still be able to enter the contest provided that they bring four copies of their poem(s) so each judge will be able to follow along as the poem is read.)
7. Colby-Sawyer College may declare no winner and withhold prizes if no entries are deemed suitable.
8. Winning entries may be published in the Courier or displayed on one of the Ware Campus Center bulletin boards.

My signature on this document indicates that the poem I am submitting is entirely my own original work.

Signature ___________________________ Date _______________

(Entries without a signature above will be disqualified.)

Colby-Sawyer College has my permission to reproduce and publish this poem along with my name.

Signature ___________________________ Date _______________