The Chargers hold a 277-100 mark during his tenure, including a 129-18 mark in Commonwealth Coast Conference games and a 127-19 mark in regular-season matches played at site of tournament matches.

Last season, Coach Foti guided the Chargers to the NCAA Tournament three times, most recently following the 2002-03 season. Foti has led the Colby-Sawyer men's basketball team to postseason play in nine of the last 11 seasons, including each of the last five. He has guided the Chargers to the NCAA Tournament three times, most recently following the 2002-03 season.

The Gulls advanced to Saturday's title game by defeating Wentworth in the semifinals on Thursday night, 74-60. Colby-Sawyer and Endicott actually finished the regular season with identical 13-3 conference records, but the Gulls earned the second seed, and subsequently are hosting the championship game, by virtue of splitting the season series with division winner Gordon.

Off The Bench

THE TIP OFF: After a one-year hiatus, the Colby-Sawyer mens basketball team is back in the championship game of the Commonwealth Coast Conference tournament. The Chargers will play at Endicott on Saturday at 7 p.m. in Beverly, Mass., with the winner earning the league's automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament.

LAST TIME OUT: Colby-Sawyer knocked off top-seeded Gordon, 67-51, on Thursday night in Wenham, Mass., averging two of the three conference losses the Chargers suffered during the regular season. Andrew St. Clair (Pittsfield, Maine/Maine Central Institute) scored a game-high 19 points and had eight rebounds. Collin Bray (Brookline, Mass./New Hampton Prep) added 12 points and seven assists in the victory.

ABOUT ENDICOTT: The Gulls advanced to Saturday's title game by defeating Wentworth in the semifinals on Thursday night, 74-60. Colby-Sawyer and Endicott actually finished the regular season with identical 13-3 conference records, but the Gulls earned the second seed, and subsequently are hosting the championship game, by virtue of splitting the season series with division winner Gordon. Endicott, last year's conference tournament champion, has won three straight contests coming into the championship game. Nemanja Marinkovic leads three players in double figures in scoring, averaging 14.6 ppg, while Matt George is scoring 13.7 ppg and Zach Ellis is averaging 11.1 ppg. The two teams split the season series, with the home team winning both times. In the last contest, in New London, Colby-Sawyer used a strong start to the second half to break open a five-point halftime lead. Andrew St. Clair scored 20 points while James Thorpe added 19 in that win for Colby-Sawyer, snapping a two-game losing streak to the Gulls dating back to last season.

HEAD COACH BILL FOTI: In his 14th season, Bill Foti has led the Colby-Sawyer Mens basketball team to postseason play in nine of the last 11 seasons, including each of the last five. He has guided the Chargers to the NCAA Tournament three times, most recently following the 2002-03 season. The Chargers hold a 277-100 mark during his tenure, including a 129-18 mark in Commonwealth Coast Conference games and a 127-19 mark in regular-season matches played at site of tournament matches.

UPCOMING GAMES

Sat., Feb. 25 at Endicott
Beverly, Mass.
Aside from top-seeded Gordon falling to Colby-Sawyer in the semifinals on Thursday, the major story of the 2006 Commonwealth Coast Conference Tournament has been the supremacy of the North Division. All four North Division playoff teams recorded a win in the quarterfinals over their southern counterparts. All season long, the north has shown its strength, as the top three teams in the north - Gordon, Endicott, Colby-Sawyer - each posted a better conference record than the south winner, Roger Williams.

ST. CLAIR JOINS THE ELITE: Andrew St. Clair became just the fifth player in the nation - men’s or women’s - this season and third in Colby-Sawyer history to record 2,000 career points during the win over Gordon in the semifinals on Thursday. Only T.J. Gondek and Matt George have scored more points in a Colby-Sawyer uniform than St. Clair has. Anthony Fitzgerald of Villa Julie, Derek Yvon of Springfield, Megan Silva of Randolph-Macon and Tyler Rothen of Trinity (Conn.) each have crossed the 2,000 career point mark this year.

CHARGERS IN THE CCC TOURNAMENT: Colby-Sawyer has qualified for the CCC Tournament in each of the 11 years of conference affiliation, winning the title in 2001, 2002 and 2003. The Chargers have a 19-7 record in tournament play entering Saturday’s title game, including a 9-2 mark in road games in the tournament. Colby-Sawyer and Endicott have met three times in tournament play, with the Gulls winning in 2000 and in 2004. The 2004 win for Endicott sent the Gulls into the NCAA Tournament, avenging Colby-Sawyer’s win over Endicott in the 2003 championship game.

ROAD WARRIORS: If Colby-Sawyer defeats Endicott on Saturday, that would mark the first time in school history that Colby-Sawyer has won three straight road games in the conference tournament. In fact, Colby-Sawyer had never played a conference quarterfinal game on the road until this season.

NEARING ANOTHER MILESTONE: After recording his 2,000th career point on Thursday night against Gordon, Andrew St. Clair is also approaching another rare milestone. St. Clair currently has 987 career rebounds, leaving him 13 shy of 1,000. The last Division III player in the nation to record 1,000 career rebounds was Rochester’s Seth Hauben on Feb. 11, 2005. St. Clair already is the top rebounder in school history, with more than 150 boards separating him and Ethan Betts’ career total of 838.

LEADING THE WAY: Andrew St. Clair continues to lead the Commonwealth Coast Conference in scoring, averaging 22.2 points per game. After scoring nine points in the season-opening win against Husson, the senior has scored in double-digits in each of the next 25 contests. He set a career scoring, averaging 22.2 points per game. After scoring nine points in the season-opening win against Husson, the senior has scored in double-digits in each of the next 25 contests. He set a career scoring high on Dec. 6 against the University of New England, scoring 34 points. St. Clair has scored 20 points or more 14 times this season, including in 11 of the last 15 games, in which the Chargers have gone 13-2. St. Clair also ranks third in the league in rebounding, averaging 8.5 boards per contest, and is third in field goal percentage at 60.3 percent from the floor.

SAVING THEIR BEST FOR LAST: In their final regular-season home game at the Coffin Field House last Saturday against Eastern Nazarene, the four Colby-Sawyer seniors each made it a game to remember. James Thorpe and Scott Butterworth (Hamilton, Mass./Hamilton-Wenham Regional) both recorded season highs in points, scoring 26 and 17 points, respectively. Thorpe and Butterworth also set a new career mark with five three-pointers each. Collin Bray tied his season high with eight assists in the contest as well.

GRAND THEFT BASKETBALL: Andrew St. Clair and Collin Bray have gone back and forth this season with the Colby-Sawyer career steals lead. St. Clair currently has a three-steal advantage over Bray in the all-time record books. Bray had temporarily taken over the lead following the Jan. 24 game against Wentworth, picking up two steals against the Leopards, only to have St. Clair reclaim it the following week. St. Clair currently has 205 steals, with Bray at 202.

CLIMBING THE CHARTS: Seniors Andrew St. Clair and Collin Bray both continue to climb up the Colby-Sawyer career record book. St. Clair is currently ranked in the top five in six different categories, including leading in blocked shots (139), rebounds (987), field goals made (812) and steals (205). St. Clair is also third in points (2,010) and third in free throws made (383). Bray, meanwhile, is second in steals with 202 and has moved into second place in the school’s career assists list with 429. Bray also ranks sixth in free throws made with 254 and is 11th in career three-pointers made with 88, with fellow senior James Thorpe passing him on Feb. 18. Thorpe currently has 103 three-pointers.

IT’S THE LITTLE THINGS: It may seem obvious, but rebounding and shooting have been two indicators of Colby-Sawyer’s success on the season. The Chargers are 13-0 this year when shooting better than 45 percent from the field, and just 4-9 when shooting below that mark. Similarly, when Colby-Sawyer out-rebounds its opponent, the Chargers are 11-2 on the season. The Chargers have also been strong at protecting their leads, as Colby-Sawyer holds a 16-1 mark this season when leading at halftime. In addition, when the Chargers commit fewer than 10 turnovers, they are a perfect 6-0 on the year.

UP NEXT: Saturday’s winner advances to the NCAA Division III Tournament. Qualifying teams will be announced on Sunday night with pairings being revealed on Monday morning.
