Urban Permaculture Design Course

Permaculture is a design approach that sustainably integrates human settlements and natural systems. Its aim is to promote the diversity, stability and resilience of ecosystems while also creating self-sustaining homes, neighborhoods and communities that meet the needs of their inhabitants.

Franklin Falls at Odell Park: A collaborative project to balance preservation and progress through permaculture.

INSTRUCTOR: Steve Whitman

SCHEDULE:
- Sept 14 | CSC | 6-7:40pm
- Sept 21 | CSC | 6-7:40pm
- Sept 28 | CSC | 6-7:40pm
- Oct 3 & 4 | Franklin | All day
- Oct 5 | CSC | 6-7:40pm

COST: $450.00

REGISTRATION
Contact Ellen Brownson at (603)-526-3706 or ellen.brownson@colby-sawyer.edu. Registration deadline is September 4, 2015

CURRICULUM HIGHLIGHTS
- Permaculture principles
- Site observation and mapping skills
- Holistic analysis and design skills
- Transportation, water, waste, energy and agriculture in an urban environment
- Collaborative design project in Franklin, NH

MORE INFO ONLINE: www.colby-sawyer.edu/sustainable/urbanpermaculture.html