

ANNUAL REPORT OF GIFTS

JULY 1, 2007 THROUGH JUNE 30, 2008

Colby-Sawyer College

Colby-Sawyer College is honored to share this 2008 Annual Report of Gifts with you. Philanthropy is what makes our dreams possible, and support of the Annual Fund is essential for the college's vitality and growth. When you choose to make a gift to the college's Annual Fund, you make an investment in today's students, our campus community, and Colby-Sawyer's future. You help to support academic excellence and rich opportunities for discovery beyond the classroom. A gift to the Annual Fund strengthens academic scholarships, student life, athletics, faculty development and more. We gratefully acknowledge each annual and special-purpose gift on the following pages, and we salute the generosity of alumni, parents and friends that ensures our success now and in years to come.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

October 2008

Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends of Colby-Sawyer College,

At Colby-Sawyer College we make every decision by asking how will students benefit. By making a gift to the college you benefit our students, and we all thank you for that generous and critical support. By making a gift for a designated purpose you benefit those students or faculty who participate in a particular program. Likewise, when you support our Annual Fund you benefit our students. But how exactly does your generous support of the college through an annual gift make a difference in our students' lives? When I talk with people about Annual Fund support, I realize it is a great opportunity to invite ever more specific support of our work.

Some people believe that a gift to the Annual Fund is used only to pay the electric bill, the propane bill, or the paint bill. While electricity, propane, and paint are all necessary expenses, it is understandable that not everyone thinks of the importance of such things when considering philanthropic commitments. Thus, they may think that a gift to the Annual Fund has less glamour attached to it than a designated gift to the endowment for scholarships or faculty support. I strongly believe people should invest in and support what they believe in. However, I would like to let you all in on a reliable truth. If annual giving to the college declined, we would still need to pay the electric bill, we would still need to pay the propane bill, and we would still need to buy paint as necessary. The point is that there are certain fixed, rather necessary items, which we are going to have to pay for no matter how much we raise through the Annual Fund.

So, what would actually happen if Annual Fund support did not grow each year? The answer is as simple as looking at the educational priorities of the institution and how they are reflected in our overall budget. For instance, we would have much less to invest in supporting mission-critical programs like scholarships, student development, and faculty support. Our approximate total annual budget is $40 million. Of that $40 million, about $11 million is devoted to financial aid and scholarships for our students. Approximately $600,000 of that $11 million is funded from endowment earnings. The rest comes from tuition revenues and annual giving. Thus, a gift to the Annual Fund makes a huge difference in our ability to provide our students with financial aid and scholarship support, and the specific educational initiatives budgeted each year that are made possible by current operating gifts to the college. Simply put, a gift to the Annual Fund allows many students to attend Colby-Sawyer who might not otherwise have been able to do so.

To illustrate: a $10,000 gift to the Annual Fund would support a student with a scholarship. Friends who make gifts to support annual scholarships are able to directly invest in a particular student's educational well-being. To endow a $10,000 annual scholarship would require a gift of approximately $200,000. Thus, a current or Annual Fund gift of $10,000 for a student scholarship is, in essence, a living endowment that works immediately to benefit the recipient.

Moving away from scholarships and financial aid, if we were to subtract the $11 million in financial aid and scholarships from the overall $40 million budget we would be left with a budget of about $29 million. Of that $29 million, approximately 69 percent is devoted to faculty and staff salaries and benefits. Thus, a gift to the Annual Fund helps us to support our outstanding faculty and staff who provide our students with the fantastic education and support they receive. Consequently, a gift to the Annual Fund supports our most important asset—our people.

This year, we hope you will once again renew your commitment to our college. As you consider your gift to Colby-Sawyer, you may also want to consider designating an Annual Fund gift for scholarship support, faculty support, or another specific area which you may care deeply about, such as extracurricular opportunities for students, student travel, distinguished speakers, the “Courier” (our student newspaper), green initiatives, athletics, or technology. Whether designated or not, your gift to the Annual Fund will make an immediate and huge positive difference in our lives and in our students’ lives.

Without your support, we would not have been able to accomplish the many things we have in the past year. With your future gifts, we will continue to improve and to strive for excellence in everything we do. Your generous support of the college’s Annual Fund not only impacts our students, and strengthens our most basic educational mission with an enhanced academic program, it helps to ensure the future financial flexibility of Colby-Sawyer to continue to thrive and be successful.

I hope to see you on campus this year.

Sincerely,

Thomas C. Galligan Jr.

ENROLLMENTS/RESIDENTS

A MESSAGE FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR ADVANCEMENT

October 2008

Dear Friends:

This report celebrates the decision that all of you who are listed in this publication made to support Colby-Sawyer College with a gift during the 2008 fiscal year. By quickly scanning the pages that follow this one, you know that thousands of alumni, parents and friends made the same decision you made. Colby-Sawyer is stronger with your support.

Every gift to Colby-Sawyer helps students and inspires us to strive to be better each day. Our hope is that each time you make a gift to the college, you benefit, too.

Every gift, of every amount, opens up a possibility. In conversations with alumni throughout the past year, I had opportunities to talk about college priorities and dreams, and to learn about the issues important to members of the Colby-Sawyer family. On several occasions, when an alumna/us learned that by making a gift to the college, and directing it to a particular purpose, he or she could resolve an issue or bring a dream to life, their philanthropy became inspired.

I hope you will continue to support Colby-Sawyer in the years ahead. More importantly, I hope you will allow us an opportunity each year to ensure that your giving is not born of habit or obligation, but rather that we have inspired you to invest in Colby-Sawyer in ways that make a difference to you and to the college we love.

For making it possible this year to add faculty, to increase financial aid, to encourage professional development, to increase the diversity of the student body, to broaden the curriculum, to expand co-curricular programming, to renovate buildings, to expand on-campus housing, and more, we truly thank you.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth A. Cahill
VICE PRESIDENT FOR ADVANCEMENT

Each year the senior class officers help to raise money through donations given by classmates to support the college's Annual Fund. The funds raised are usually given in the form of a gift chosen by the class.

Seniors Kelly Sullivan (left) and Mallary Jaracz, proudly show off the t-shirts they received as donors to the Annual Fund.

This year the class of 2008 chose to focus on participation and let each individual senior decide which area of the college he/she would like to support. With a total participation of thirty-nine percent, the class raised $805 dollars to be used for student life, scholarships, campus maintenance and beautification, technology, teaching and learning and unrestricted areas of need.

“We liked the idea of students being able to choose where their pledge would go because that way they could be assured it would go toward something they were passionate about, and we figured more of our classmates would give if they had choices.”

The Cupola Club

The Cupola Club recognizes our generous young alumni. Named for the structure atop Colgate Hall, one of the oldest and most enduring campus symbols, the Cupola represents our most recent graduates and their importance to the future of the college. All young alumni are welcomed into the Cupola Club upon making a gift to the Annual Fund. This year we are pleased to recognize gifts from members of the classes of 1993-2007.

“The best part of Colby-Sawyer College is becoming yourself among your peers and faculty. I have developed as a graphic artist and pursued my dreams within the realm of art. I have been pushed to my limits and have found my niche and my style here at Colby-Sawyer. Being a leader at school has been invigorating because I learn so much from everyone else through their experiences as students and artists. I like to push other people and encourage them to be their best, much as my teachers have done for me. I have learned to always ask questions and to look for new approaches to problems.”

ALUMNI DONORS

Colby-Sawyer College depends upon the generous support of its alumni to sustain our excellence. The following class lists recognize all alumni who have made gifts to the Annual Fund and/or for Capital and Endowment purposes during the period July 1, 2007, through June 30, 2008. An asterisk denotes five or more years of consecutive giving. Annual Fund gifts are unrestricted or restricted for current use and support the college's educational and co-curricular programs. These gifts are expendable within the fiscal year in which they are received. Capital and endowment gifts are contributions received by the college for equipment, new and renovated facilities, special program support, and for endowed and memorial funds. Leadership societies and giving clubs are recognized and included in the Annual Fund lists. The class dollar and participation totals noted for each class pertain to the 2008 Annual Fund.

“One of the greatest advantages of being a student here is being able to have the opportunity to befriend professors and college staff. The connections that one can form with other students and other members of the college community are part of what makes Colby-Sawyer College a unique place. My success in becoming a student leader in the college community and in the Community and Environmental Studies major was driven by the encouragement that I received from my professors. Because of the small campus, you are able to see the difference you are making. The knowledge that my hard work has been recognized is what makes my college experience the best I could ask for. I can apply these skills to future jobs, community service, and overall community involvement.”

When you make a gift to enhance student life, you could be giving a student a chance to be an editor, a student-athlete, a dancer, a community volunteer, a radio show host, a campus leader or the opportunity to attend a special performance on campus.

GIFTS-IN-KIND

Gifts-in-kind are non-cash gifts of tangible personal property. A gift-in-kind may also be a service or other donated items. Many of those gifts are received for special fundraisers to benefit athletics or student activities. The Colby-Sawyer community appreciates the in-kind gifts made in 2007-2008 from these generous donors.

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

In 1967 a group of New London area summer residents founded the Friends of the Library to support what is now the Susan Colgate Cleveland Library/Learning Center. In addition to raising funds to enhance our library, the Friends support several programs throughout the year that are open and free to the public. The college is grateful for the enduring support of the Friends of the Library, which has enriched our community.

"At Colby-Sawyer there are countless possibilities for making something of yourself as a student. The most rewarding thing about being recognized as a community leader is the opportunity to influence others in a positive way. It's my way of giving back to the community to promote our college and its programs. Colby-Sawyer offers the resources and support to have a community that's connected. To become a leader, you should take advantage of all those resources. Brave the academic frontier, crawl out of your hermit shell and be your own role model."

THE HERITAGE SOCIETY

The Heritage Society was established in 1992 to thank those individuals who have provided for Colby-Sawyer's future through a bequest or deferred gift. The college expresses deep gratitude for the foresight and generosity of these benefactors. Alumni and friends join the Heritage Society by informing the college of estate plans that include Colby-Sawyer. Requests for anonymity are honored. New members, or members who made a new contribution to an existing deferred gift in 2007-2008, appear in bold. The symbol ^ denotes a member who has died between July 1, 2007, and June 30, 2008.

WAYS TO GIVE TO COLBY-SAWYER COLLEGE

Gifts come to Colby-Sawyer in a variety of meaningful and important ways that can be tailored to the needs of the donor(s). Several of these gift vehicles typically yield attractive tax benefits. Listed below are opportunities you may wish to consider in contributing to sustaining the strength and excellence of the college now and in the future.

Cash

Gifts of cash are deductible up to 50 percent of a donor's adjusted gross income (AGI). Any excess can be carried over for five years.

Deferred Gifts

Deferred gifts may bring donors several benefits, including income for life or for a term of years, income for a second beneficiary, and reductions in income, capital gains, gift, or estate taxes. These gifts take many forms, including annuities, remainder trusts, life insurance, and bequests.

Gifts-in-Kind

Tangible personal gifts, such as art objects, jewelry, silver and antiques can be donated to the college for educational purposes or for resale. Tax deductibility will vary. Personal property may also be contributed to fund a trust, which will produce income for the donor and help the donor to avoid or reduce taxes.

IRA Assets

IRA's are subject to estate tax if left to individuals other than a spouse. If you name a charity such as Colby-Sawyer as beneficiary, all taxes are avoided.

Matching Gifts

Corporate matching gift programs allow an employee or retiree to potentially double or triple a gift to Colby-Sawyer. Typically, the employee obtains a company form and submits it to the college with his/her contribution. Please check with your human resources department for more information.

Real Estate

Gifts of real estate may be made to the college outright, in whole or in part, through transfer in a bargain sale, or to fund a gift annuity or unitrust. In some circumstances, donors may also contribute real estate to the college while reserving the right to occupy the property during their lifetime. Each approach has specific estate and tax benefits.

Securities

Gifts of appreciated stocks (including mutual funds), bonds, and other securities may offer considerable capital gains tax savings.

Gifts From IRA's Offer Tax Advantages Through 2009 If You Are 70½ or Older.

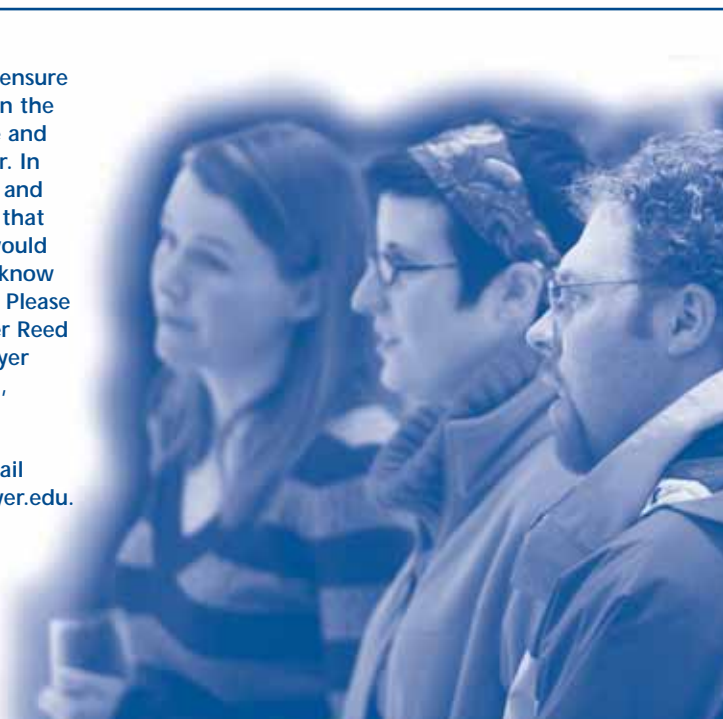

From now through December 31, 2009, a provision of the Pension Protection Act of 2006 allows you to make cash gifts totaling up to $100,000 from your traditional or Roth IRA to Colby-Sawyer College or to other tax-exempt charitable organizations.

- Qualified distributions must be made directly to Colby-Sawyer.
- These gifts may be in addition to other charitable giving you have planned.
- Distributions must be made by December 31, 2009.
- Your qualified IRA withdrawal is not included in taxable income.
- These funds will never be subject to estate tax.

The college will be happy to send you a personalized confidential financial analysis to illustrate how a life income gift can benefit both you and Colby-Sawyer College.

Please consult with your IRA administrator, attorney, or financial advisor about making a gift to Colby-Sawyer College from your IRA account.
